With an intimate and dynamic approach to the adult/alternative genre, Bastet combines traditional rock and folk themes into emotionally charged songs that touch the heart and speak to every corner of the human soul. Bastet's sound is the culmination of Songstress Adrienne Skeels' emotional and revealing lyrics interlaced with both warm and haunting melodies. Backed by the rhythmic and colorful guitar playing of John Skeels, the melodic bass playing of Erik Schieffer and the commanding beats laid down by drummer Jay Turnage.

Since the spring of 2002, Bastet has performed at various venues in the DFW area as well as Tulsa, Oklahoma and Houston, Texas. In June 2004, Bastet's single "Gotta Be On My Way" was included on Small Guy Record's Catalog One Big Music from DFW; A compilation of 18 bands from around the DFW area which has had wide regional distribution. Bastet has also received many listener awards on Garageband.com. "Gotta Be On My Way" with: 'track of the day' for February 17th, 2004 and "He Said" with: 'track of the day' for March 31st, 2005, 'best female vocals in folk/rock,' 'best guitar in folk/rock,' and 'best melody in folk/rock.'

In addition to the band's original music, Bastet is ready to fill the night with a growing set of songs by some familiar artists in the music industry.
